What kind of data is shared?

Permission Support - 2026-02-10 - Permission Agent

Only the information you actively choose to share: survey-style responses, search intent, preferences, or context from your browsing sessions that you approve.

Your Permission Agent is designed to behave like a trusted assistant; it doesn't collect everything by default. Instead, it captures what you value and consent to share. That data is encrypted end-to-end, stored securely, and enriched with metadata like:

- Timestamped consent
- Scoped usage permissions
- Provenance tracing

This approach powers the precise personalization you appreciate without compromising privacy.

As the Permission Agent learns more about your preferences, it unlocks more relevant AI experiences and earning opportunities, always with your permission intact.
